Job Offer

Étudiant·es Relais Santé (ERS) [Master’s Degree]

Type of Employment:
Organization and facilitation of collective health prevention actions from the University preventive medicine services (SUMP) on the 4 campuses of the University of Paris Nanterre.

Duration:
• The 2021-2022 academic year, for 17 hours per month.
• Also included: 35-hour health prevention training.

Requirements:
• Be enrolled as an undergraduate student at the University of Paris Nanterre;
• Be an undergraduate student interested in health prevention;
• Have ease with communication, both online and in person with other students.

Proposed tasks:
• Be creative in approaches for student outreach (ability to use social media, help stage parties for SUMP, know how to take a selfie);
• Possess a desire to want to participate in health prevention in student life;
• Participate in the communication of messages concerning health prevention;
• Inform, guide, and communicate with students about existing health systems dedicated the student body;
• Work in a team and enjoy sharing to build creative projects with others;
• Good relationship skills and a dynamic energy are strongly recommended.

Position:
Temporary worker for the University of Paris Nanterre

Salary:
Gross income of €16.54 per hour
On a monthly basis of 17 hours total
35-hour training included
Transport partially covered with proof of purchase

Application process:
mlootens@parisnanterre.fr
Bât Ramnoux, 2e étage, bureau 207 b